Big infrastructural redevelopment project is under way! The 23 km Noida-Greater Noida expressway between the twin cities of Noida and Greater Noida will be redeveloped soon. According to a recent Dainik Jagran report, the entire stretch of the expressway will be built and redeveloped on bitumen technology. In this regard, a survey had also been carried out recently by the authorities and after the 2019 general elections get over, the expressway will be renewed and reconstructed with bitumen technology. At the same time, as many as four underpasses will be constructed on the expressway which will provide seamless connectivity to the people residing in the surrounding areas.

According to the report, the construction and redevelopment work will begin after the Model Code of Conduct is lifted by the Election Commission post elections.

Presently, the work is in the tender process and the construction of the four underpasses will be done by the year 2021. The details of the four underpasses to be constructed are as follows:

1. The first underpass will be constructed from zero mile till 2.36 km through box pushing technology. The budget for the same has been set at Rs 97.67 crore and the target for completion has been set as December 31, 2020. The tender for the underpass is in process.
